MEMBERSHIP

Clio Members could never be defined simply by what they do or where they are from. They're united instead by the strength of their differences and shared passion for the pursuit of excellence.

The Clio community is a diverse mix of visionaries and inspiring leaders, both established and emerging, who are actively engaged in the world and constantly seeking new perspectives and intellectual challenges.

We take member selection seriously and are committed to maintaining an inclusive community that is truly representative of Toronto, across all facets of diversity (background, profession, gender, perspective, belief, identity, etc.).
